HPRIL Dissemination Plan: July 14, 2022

The table below provides an overview of HPRIL's plans for dissemination, including the target date, audience, lead contributors, and pertinent notes. The table is divided into two sections: Presentations and Written Products. The table is further divided into sections for products and presentations led by the HPRIL team at JHSPH and those led by the local subgrantee agencies. HPRIL solicited this information from subgrantees in February 2021. The dissemination plan is a living document and will be updated periodically as opportunities become available, further details about conferences are published, and ideas for dissemination products are finalized.
